Biography
"John Enghauser" is a singer/songwriter who has been on the original music scene since the mid 90's. Falling in love with music at a very young age, John grew up collecting albums and listening tirelessly to the sounds of rock, funk, jazz, soul, fusion and progressive rock. His first live performance as a lead singer was in a High School rock band at age 17. Enghauser has developed into a truly gifted artist ever since.

Enghauser's first break was as front man for his high-octane funk rock project called "Jamawokee" which debuted in Massachusetts. John began honing his songwriting and front man skills as the 4-piece band released its first recording, self-titled "Jamawokee", in 1996.

John later fronted his own original band in Boston called "Jeng" which developed a reputation for its potent live show. He used his creative flair to write all of the material for Jeng and his talents sparked the interest of heavy hitting labels such as Columbia and Virgin Records.

JOHN ENGHAUSER

John Enghauser

"John Enghauser" is a singer/songwriter who has been on the original music scene since the mid 90s. Falling in love with music at a very young age, John grew up collecting albums and listening tirelessly to the sounds of rock, funk, jazz, soul, fusion and progressive rock.

His first live performance as a lead singer was in a High School rock band at age 17. Enghauser has developed into a truly gifted artist ever since.

Enghauser's first break was as front man for his high-octane funk rock project called "Jamawokee" which debuted in Massachusetts. John began honing his songwriting and front man skills as the 4-piece band released its first recording, self-titled "Jamawokee", in 1996.

John later fronted his own original band in Boston called "Jeng" which developed a reputation for its potent live show. He used his creative flair to write all of the material for Jeng and his talents sparked the interest of heavy hitting labels such as Columbia and Virgin Records.

In 2000 John released the Jeng album "Lartum Dream" which is a compilation of some songs he wrote while with the band. John was honored to have his mentor Mitch Chakour (Joe Cocker, Bonnie Raitt, James Taylor) share keyboard duties with him on this amazing album.

John's music is a mix of past and present sounds. He released his latest CD "Lost in the Pages" in 13 countries including Australia, England, France, Germany, New Zealand, Canada and The U.S.A.

John wrote all of the material on the album and co-produced it with Joerg Stoeffel.

Enghauser performs all vocals, acoustic guitars, electric guitars, bass and keyboards on this album. The album features superstar drummer, Dicki Fliszar, who has shared the stage with the likes of Van Halen, Iron Maiden and Bon Jovi. In addition, "Lost in the Pages" has received critical acclaim by being nominated by The LA Music Awards for "Best Album of 2009" in two categories.

John has been influenced by the sounds of Stevie Wonder, Earth, Wind and Fire, Led Zeppelin, early Genesis and Jamiroquai. If you like Lenny Kravitz, The Black Crowes and/or Steely Dan then John's music will find familiar ground with your ears. His lyrics are poetic and his songs are magical. He is timeless FM radio.

After reaching several milestones for a number of years, John has been out there performing live and building a fan base in the indie music scene. Fast forward to 2009 and John has now signed a global deal with indie powerhouse "Blue Pie" www.bluepie.com.au.

John will be working with Blue Pie throughout 2009 in preparation for the launch of his self-titled album "John Enghauser". Live dates will be announced on his My Space page and website.

Quotes

"Lost in the Pages" by seasoned songwriter and producer John Enghauser is a brilliantly crafted pop/rock album filled with radio-ready hits. John's diversified musical compositions keeps listeners engaged, while his skillfully penned lyrics infuse his audience with fervent emotions. The title-track proves to be an auspicious beginning for this album, highlighting John's niche for creating groovy musical hooks that are hard to forget. "Still Waters" and "Breathe Again" reveal a softer side of the record, led by the beautiful sounds of the acoustic guitar, and backed by stellar, heartfelt vocal performances. Moreover, the vintage southern-rock tune, "Kitchen," goes on to highlight the diversity displayed on this album, as well as John's remarkable ability to deliver vocal performances fitting for numerous genres. Polished with superb production, fans of passionate pop and acoustic rock with an occasional vintage undertone will enjoy this CD."

- RadioIndy.com

"Velvety smooth vocals over melodic groove rock. Acoustic guitar meets electric in this "hooky" solo effort from multi-instrumentalist, John Enghauser, former front-man for Jeng. Recommended if you like Lenny Kravitz, The Black Crowes, John Mayer."

- CD Baby

"Merge the vocal complexities of Stevie Wonder with the magnanimous presence of Chris Robinson and somewhere in between you'll find John."

- The Boston Globe

JOHN ENGHAUSER

"John Enghauser" is a singer/songwriter who has been on the original music scene since the mid 90's. Falling in love with music at a very young age, John grew up collecting albums and listening tirelessly to the sounds of rock, funk, jazz, soul, fusion and progressive rock. His first live performance as a lead singer was in a High School rock band at age 17. Enghauser has developed into a truly gifted artist ever since.

Enghauser's first break was as front man for his high-octane funk rock project called "Jemawoke" which debuted in Massachusetts. John began honing his songwriting and front man skills as the 4-piece band released its first recording, self-titled "Jemawoke", in 1996.

John later fronted his own original band in Boston called "Jerg" which developed a reputation for its potent live show. He used his creative flare to write all of the material for Jerg and his talents sparked the interest of heavy hitting labels such as Columbia and Virgin Records.

In 2000 John released the Jerg album "Lunatic Dream" which is a compilation of some songs he wrote while with the band. John was honored to have his mentor Mitch Oleniuk (Joe Cocker, Bonnie Raitt, James Taylor) share keyboard duties with him on this amazing album.

John's music is a mix of past and present sounds. He released his latest CD "Lost in the Pages" in 13 countries including Australia, England, France, Germany, New Zealand, Canada and the U.S.A. John wrote all of the material on the album and co-produced it with Joerg Stowell. Enghauser performs all vocals, acoustic guitars, electric guitars, bass and keyboards on this album. The album features superstar drummer, Gilson Pizarro, who has shared the stage with the likes of Van Halen, Iron Maiden and Bon Jovi. In addition, "Lost in the Pages" has received critical acclaim by being nominated by The LA Music Awards for "Best Album of 2009" in two categories.

John has been influenced by the sounds of Stevie Wonder, Earth, Wind and Fire, Led Zepplin, early Genesis and Jamiroquai. If you like Lenny Kravitz, The Black Crowes and/or Stevie Nicks then John's music will find familiar ground with your ears. His lyrics are poetic and his songs are magical. He is timeless FM radio.

After reaching several milestones for a number of years, John has been out there performing live and building a fan base in the indie music scene. Fast forward to 2009 and John has now signed a global deal with indie power house "Blue Pie" www.bluepie.com.au. John will be working with Blue Pie throughout 2009 in preparation for the launch of his self-titled album "John Enghauser". Live dates will be announced on his MySpace page and website.

My latest CD 'Lost in the Pages' has been nominated for '2009 Best Album' in two categories for this year's LA Music Awards. The voting party is Thursday, October 8th at Whiskey A Go Go which is a week from this coming Thursday. The format is an old school ballot system so you have to be present in order to vote. It will go something like this... they play an excerpt of my CD vs. four others and you hopefully check the box next to me and cheer to influence others to do the same. A walk in the park! LA Music Awards recognizes the work of songwriters, producers and engineers. The people who 'turn the knobs'. There will be some renowned industry people present as well. Hope to see you there!
